FORT

2010 MEDIA POLICIES

The New England Revolution is pleased to assist you in your coverage of the team. As an organization, Kraft Sports Group - the New England Patriots and New England Revolution - has specific media policies of which you should be aware as you prepare to cover the team.

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

All media who have been issued credentials - season, day-of-game or training - are expected to follow the guidelines set forth in this document, as well as the instructions of the Revolution staff, stadium employees and security, or risk limitation of access or revocation of credentials.

Media access issued with the purpose of providing access to interviews and written, audio and visual accounts of the team, as appropriate. No member of the media should use this access for autographs, personal photographs or commercial requests.

MEDIA SERVICES

Press Releases: Requests to be added to the Revolution's media distribution should be emailed to media@revolutionssoccer.net.

Media Guides: A limited number of digital and printed media guides will be made available to regular and national media in 2010. A full PDF version of the media guide will be available on revolutionssoccer.net, and all statistical and biographical information will also be continually updated on revolutionssoccer.net.

Official Web Site: revolutionssoccer.net is the official web site of the New England Revolution. All content posted on the site by the team may be republished in its entirety by media outlets, with credit cited as "New England Revolution." Note that user-generated content, including user comments, photos and videos, MAY NOT be republished without explicit permission.

Video: Media are welcome to embed videos that appear on revolutionssoccer.net.

B-roll & Interviews: With sufficient notice, the Revolution Communications staff will usually be able to provide footage and interviews by request. To request b-roll or pre-taped interviews, please e-mail media@revolutionssoccer.net to inquire about availability.

Twitter: twitter.com/NERevolution (username: @nerrevolution) is the official Twitter page of the New England Revolution and features breaking news and new content posted to revolutionssoccer.net. Media are welcome to re-tweet Revolution content, including play-by-play accounts, using the "RT @nerrevolution" or "via @nerrevolution" tags.

Head shots & Action Photos: The New England Revolution maintains updated headshots on all members of the active roster, including coaches and staff, and has a growing archive that includes players from within the last five seasons and most higher-profile players from the team's history. The team also has a growing archive of action shots of the same groups of personnel, which is available for use by members of the media with proper photo credit.

MEDIA ATTENDING TRAINING SESSIONS

In general, training sessions throughout the season are open to the media. In your coverage of daily sessions, we ask for your cooperation in observing the following practice policies:

1. Please do not report on match strategy deployed at training. This includes describing specific formations, personnel groupings, set pieces and combinations.
2. Please do not quote, paraphrase or report the comments made by coaches, staff or players during a training session.

GENERAL SECURITY POLICIES

Because of security procedures in place at Gillette Stadium, any member of the media who wishes to attend a training session at the stadium's practice fields or on the main stadium field must inform the Revolution Communications staff before the close of business the day before you wish to come. We cannot guarantee admittance to the stadium grounds if we are not aware that you are planning to come to training.

CHECKING IN AT GILLETTE STADIUM

All members of the media who attend any Revolution training session at Gillette Stadium must check in at Security Command, located at the south end of the stadium (through the doors under the red awning). All members of the media who have RSVP'd with the Revs Communications staff will be on a list at the check-in window. Please have proper forms of ID available, which can include MLS season credentials.

GAMEDAY CREDENTIALS

Media members who are not issued season credentials must apply for gameday credentials to the Revolution Communications staff no later than two business days before the match (5 p.m. on Thursdays for Saturday and Sunday matches, 5 p.m. on Mondays for Wednesday matches). All requests will be reviewed and media will be notified if they have been approved for credentials no later than 24 hours before kickoff.

MEDIA WILL CALL

Media Will Call is located at the south end of the stadium at Security Command (through the doors under the red awning). This is for press and photo credentials only. All game tickets will be left at the ticket office in the north end zone (Patriot Place Gate).

MEDIA PARKING

For the majority of the season, all media are to park in Lot 6 for both training and games unless otherwise directed. To enter the stadium, please use the North Entrance (P1) off Rt. 1 and stop at the security gatehouse at the entrance to Gillette Stadium. You will be directed to Lot 6, or the in-use lot, from there.

PLAYER AND STAFF INTERVIEWS

All interviews for Revolution players, coaches, executives and staff must be coordinated through the Communications office.

Training: Unless weather conditions preclude it, all player and staff interviews will be conducted on the practice fields at the conclusion of the training session. All interview requests will be collected by members of the Communications staff during the training session. Generally, head coach Steve Nicol will be available first, followed by the players after they have completed their cool down.

Any interview requests that will require additional time with a player or coach should be made well in advance so that we can make the appropriate arrangements. Please contact a member of the Revolution Communications staff to facilitate all interview requests.

Gamedays: The Revs' locker room is open for 60 minutes beginning two hours before kickoff. All media will be asked to clear the locker room 60 minutes before kickoff. This is both at home and on the road. Visiting teams at Gillette Stadium may have different pregame policies, but must also allow pregame access in some manner.

Following the final whistle of the game, teams will be afforded a 10-minute cooling off period in their locker rooms. Following that time, Steve Nicol will conduct a press conference in the production studio, and the team's locker room will be opened to the media. (Please note that the Revs' locker room will not be opened before the press conference begins.) Visiting teams may have different postgame policies so media is advised to check with visiting team PR officials for their protocols.

STILL PHOTOGRAPHERS

Training: Still photographers will be allowed to shoot each practice in its entirety. All photographers are to remain off the playing field and should stay behind the sideline markings of the field. If you are in need of a specific shot or angle that is not included in this area, please see a member of the Communications staff for assistance.

There will be times during practice that the team will practice set pieces, corner kicks and specific team formations. The team requests that these portions of training not be photographed and not be reported on. Thank you in advance for your understanding and cooperation.

Gamedays: All still photographers must wear the photo bib that was issued to them at media will call. Failure to wear the bib while out on the field could result in dismissal from the stadium.

Photographers should set up in the Media Work Room, located at the north end of the stadium service tunnel. A light meal and beverages will be provided in this room before the game. During Patriots Training Camp (late July- mid-August), all photographers must set up in the Blue Level Press Box and no photographers will be allowed in the Media Work Room.

GAMEDAY PHOTOGRAPHER REGULATIONS

Only photographers who are shooting for an accredited media outlet or wire service will be credentialled for games. Freelance photographers will not be credentialled. Photographers will be escorted to midfield prior to the game in order to shoot starting lineups and team photos. At the conclusion of those opportunities, all photographers must adhere to the following MLS-issued photographer guidelines:

1. General photographers are allowed to shoot the game from the endline only.
2. No photographer is allowed to shoot directly behind the goal, and must be off to either side of the goal stanchions.
3. Photographers must remain at one end of the field for the duration of the half, and are only allowed to switch ends at halftime.
4. No one with a photo credential is allowed in the technical (bench) area at any time, including warm-ups.

TV PHOTOGRAPHERS

TV cameras will be allowed to shoot training in its entirety, however, there will be instances - such as set pieces, corner kicks and penalty kicks - where a member of the Revolution Communications staff will ask all TV photographers to stop shooting for a brief time period.

At games, local ENG and news crews will be allowed to shoot the first 15 minutes of each half. At the 15:00 and 60:00 marks of the game, all video cameras must be turned off.

FILING AT THE STADIUM ON NON-GAMEDAYS

If you need to work and file from Gillette Stadium on a non-gameday, please inform a member of the Communications staff in advance of your arrival so the appropriate arrangements can be made. We cannot guarantee available space if we do not know ahead of time.

TELEVISION AND RADIO

TELEVISION

In March 2010, the Revolution announced that the team had created a partnership with Comcast SportsNet, making the regional sports network the official home of the Revolution. Additionally, starting in 2010, the team and network announced they every regionally-produced Revs match would be broadcast in high definition (HD).

The deal continues the Revolution's proud tradition of having every MLS match televised during the course of the club's 15-season history.

In addition to the Revs' matches on CSN, a selection of Revs games will be televised on national broadcast partners ESPN2 and Fox Soccer Channel, in addition to Spanish language broadcast partner Univision (which also includes the Galavision and Telefutura networks).

This season, Kraft Sports Productions will again produce every regionally-televised Revolution match. KSP is headed by Executive Producer Matt Smith and Senior Coordinating Producer Dave Mondillo. Head of Soccer TV Production Brad Feldman supervises production, with Shaw Brown and Jim Daddona returning as the primary producers for Revs' regional telecasts. The experienced tandem of Bob Frattaroli and Shawn Jensen again share directorial duties.

Revs broadcasts in 2010 will feature a new, exciting look as the team enters the realm of high definition.

RADIO

The Revolution is also committed to the best in live game radio coverage. For the first time this season, the Revolution welcomes a new radio partner: 98.5 The Sports Hub will be the primary carrier for Revs radio. In 2010, the Revs have a home on the FM dial and with the newest all-sports station in Boston.

All 30 Revolution regular-season games will again be broadcast on radio and on the web. Jason Dvorkin and Brian Tahmash produce all Revolution radio and webcasting content, including weekly programming, "In the Net," on revolutionsoccer.net.

ANNOUNCERS

Veteran announcer Brad Feldman is now in his 10th season with the Revolution, having called almost 300 matches involving the club. This season marks his sixth as the primary play-by-play announcer for the team's telecasts.

Feldman's resume includes play-by-play commentary for top European competitions on ESPN International and Setanta Sports and announcing MLS, USL and college matches on Fox Soccer Channel. He began his MLS broadcasting career as a sideline reporter on Kansas City Wizards telecasts in 1999. Feldman is a frequent guest on New England and national radio and TV talk programs on the subject of soccer and he hosts the weekly online/podcast, "In the Net" on revolutionsoccer.net.

Color Analyst Jay Heaps begins his first season in the broadcast booth in 2010 after stepping away from the professional game following the 2009 season. Heaps closed his playing career after setting Revolution club records in games, starts and minutes in his eight-and-a-half year Revolution career. Heaps retired ranked third on MLS' career leaders in minutes (27,363), fourth in starts (299) and eighth in appearances (314). The 1999 MLS Rookie of the Year was originally drafted second overall in the 1999 MLS College Draft by the Miami Fusion, and was traded to his hometown Revolution in 2001.

An 11-year MLS veteran, Heaps was honored for his consistently stellar efforts with a call-up to the U.S. National Team in the summer of 2009, where he earned four caps in helping the U.S. earn a runner-up finish at the CONCACAF Gold Cup. At the conclusion of the MLS season, he was also voted Revolution Defender of the Year, marking the first such time he was honored in New England.

Veteran soccer announcer Brad Feldman (left) returns for his 10th season with the Revolution as the club's play-by-play voice, while Jay Heaps (right) begins his first season in the booth as the color analyst after an 11-year MLS career.
