HOME OF CHAMPIONS

The Vince Lombardi Trophy is back home where it belongs in Foxborough and the Patriots are world champions for a fifth time in franchise history following a comeback for the ages in Super Bowl LI.

What the Patriots accomplished on that February night in Houston will forever live in football lore. We are extremely proud to share this championship with all of you. In the week leading up to Super Bowl LI, we were deeply touched by the pride this community showed our team, highlighted by the town-wide rally on the Common the day before the Big Game. Seeing so many of you brave the freezing temperatures to cheer us on and wish us luck from the Common meant the world to us. On behalf of the entire Patriots organization, we thank each and every one of you for your support and for helping to make the 2016 season so special.

A special thank you to the many community champions among us, including: Lynda Walsh and the Foxboro Jaycees for organizing the rally on the Common; Paul Farmer and FarmerSign for printing the wonderful banners for the Common; Mike Webber and Foxboro Cable Access for sharing the video of the rally with us; the principals, students and staff throughout the town for sharing their Patriots Pride video with us; the Foxborough Police & Fire departments for their continued dedication and the Foxborough Board of Selectmen for designating Saturday, Feb. 4, 2017 as New England Patriots Day in Foxborough.

We are honored and humbled by the loyalty you have shown our team. The town-wide pride displayed in the week leading up to Super Bowl LI truly showed the heart of Patriots Nation is right here in Foxborough.

We hope to continue to make this community proud and look forward to celebrating this championship with all of you at Founders Day in June and we cannot wait to unveil our fifth Super Bowl banner in front of our fans to kickoff the 2017 season in September.

ROBERT KRAFT MEETS THE REAL 'JOHNNY FOXBOROUGH'

A week before Super Bowl LI, Foxborough resident Mark Clagg received an invitation from Robert Kraft to stop by Gillette Stadium and spend some time with the Patriots owner. Days earlier, Mr. Kraft learned about the Foxborough High School senior through the work of Sports Illustrated's MMQB team of Peter King and Jenny Vrentas, who wrote a piece detailing the relationship between Bill Belichick and Tom Brady and the motivational tactics the legendary coach uses to push the Hall of Fame quarterback harder than anyone else on the roster.

"Johnny Foxborough" is an especially popular phrase on the practice fields behind Gillette Stadium as Belichick often tells Brady he can find his replacement down the road on South Street. Vrentas, through the help of Mark's aunt Cathy, uncovered an inspirational story that moved Mr. Kraft to meet the real "Johnny Foxborough."

PARTNERS IN PATRIOTISM FUND

The Partners in Patriotism Fund's Grants Committee is comprised of 13 residents.

MAKING AN IMPACT THROUGH THE POWER OF PARTNERSHIP

A philanthropic partnership between the Kraft family and Foxborough residents has provided the town with $225,000 in donations aimed at improving the quality of life in the community through the work of the Partners in Patriotism (PIP) Fund. Since its inception in the fall of 2014, the PIP Fund has awarded funds to Foxborough-based groups, organizations, individuals and philanthropic projects with the intent of providing a positive and lasting impact in town.

In 2016, the PIP Fund awarded 30 grants in town totaling $100,000. Among the recipients were:

- $15,000 to the Sharon Wason Memorial Pavilion to help the group reach its fundraising goal to construct a pavilion at the Payson Field Complex in memory of former Town Planner Sharon Wason, who passed away in May 2015. The pavilion will feature two pilot rock grills and six picnic tables for the community to enjoy near the playground and athletic fields. There will also be an engraved plaque acknowledging Sharon and her contributions to the community. This is currently the largest single donation the PIP Fund has awarded to date.

- $7,000 to the Foxborough High School's DECA Chapter to participate and compete in the International Career Development Conference in Nashville, Tenn. last spring. DECA has given FHS students the opportunity to compete, learn and network in the world of business.

BY THE NUMBERS

POWER OF PARTNERSHIP: Since 2014, the Kraft family has donated $225,000 to the Partners in Patriotism (PIP) Fund to be allocated to Foxborough-based organizations, philanthropic initiatives and residents in need. Below is a By the Numbers look at the impact the Fund has made in town:

PIP FUND HELPS FHS FIELD HOCKEY CELEBRATE CHAMPIONSHIP SEASON

The PIP Fund donated $4,400 to the Foxborough High School Field Hockey Boosters Club to help the program commemorate its historic 2016 season.

The funds were used to purchase championship jackets for varsity and sweatshirts for JV; reversible practice jerseys for the program; the team's South Sectional Title banner, which will hang in the school's gymnasium and all-weather gear for the coaches.

"This donation is tremendous for us," said FHS field hockey coach

The Partners in Patriotism Fund donated $4,400 to the FHS field hockey team.

Melissa Bordieri. "Through the extremely generous gift of the Kraft family and the PIP Fund, the Boosters Club is able to celebrate the hard work and success of the team on our best season in program history in a way we are so excited about." The Warriors finished the 2016 season with a 19-3-1 record, winning the Hockomock Davenport Division title for the first time since 2005 and won the program's first ever MIAA Division II South Sectional title.

THE KRAFT GROUP: A CLOSER LOOK

KRAFT GROUP COMPANY AIMS TO BE A WORLD LEADER IN SUSTAINABILITY

We continue our look at the Kraft Group's paper and packaging division comprised of International Forest Products (profiled in Q3 2016), Rand-Whitney Container (profiled in Q4 2016), Rand-Whitney Containerboard, Rand-Whitney Recycling and New-Indy Container Corporation.

Together, these companies rank in the top five of all paper and packaging companies in the United States, converting and trading in excess of 4 million tons of paper annually.

This quarter, we highlight Rand-Whitney Containerboard (RWCB), a manufacturer of high-quality, recycled lightweight linerboard. The operation focuses on being as sustainable as any linerboard mill in the world, manufacturing its high-performance linerboard from 275,000 tons of 100 percent post-consumer waste fiber that would otherwise be sent to landfills or trash burning facilities.

RWCB was also the first to use 100 percent recycled process water from the town's municipal wastewater treatment plant.

CLAGG: The real 'Johnny Foxborough'

Mark was joined by his football coach, Jack Martinelli, during his Jan. 29 visit to Gillette Stadium. Upon their arrival, Mr. Kraft gave the two 2016 AFC Champions hats and Patriots t-shirts before inviting them into the team's Trophy Room for photos with the Lombardi trophies. It was there that Mr. Kraft shared with Mark stories about Johnny Foxborough and how Belichick used the fictional player to motivate his team, especially Brady.

Foxborough High School senior Mark Clagg, left, with FHS football coach Jack Martinelli on the Gillette Stadium field on Jan. 29.

initials, NAC, on his football cleats and basketball shoes every game. "So I can always think of her," Mark told Vrentas in an interview with MMQB, "and have her driving me every game to do my best."

Back in the Trophy Room, Mark, Mr. Kraft and Coach Martinelli spent time talking about the Super Bowl matchup with the Falcons and took a trip down memory lane, reminiscing about past Patriots glory while viewing the many AFC Championship trophies around the room.

From the Trophy Room, Mark and Coach Martinelli toured Mr. Kraft's suite, where they looked out onto a quiet Gillette Stadium field and recalled a much different scene a week earlier when the Patriots defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers to advance to their record ninth Super Bowl. Following the visit to the suite, Mark and Coach Martinelli toured the team's auditorium and the Patriots locker room before ending the visit with a photo on the field.

FACES OF FOXBOROUGH BRENDAN DALY

Brendan Daly and his family moved to Foxborough after he was hired to coach the Patriots defensive line in 2014. In three seasons with the Patriots, Daly has won two Super Bowl championships and coached in three straight AFC Championship games.

"It's been a lot of fun to have the success that we've had here," Daly said. "I've really enjoyed being a part of this program and working with the coaching staff and players."

Daly has been a football coach for 20 years, spending 11 of those years in the NFL, but he didn't always have aspirations of coaching at the pro level.

"I kind of evolved into becoming a football coach," Daly said. "Like a lot of people, I left high school for college not knowing what I wanted to do. I had a number of coaches that were very instrumental in my life so I thought it was something I might want to do and I eventually went toward that path."

Daly attended Drake University, where he played football and majored in history and education. After graduation, he moved to Florida to teach and coach high school football. A year later he returned to Drake as a graduate assistant. He coached in the college ranks for seven years before elevating to the NFL, where he coached for the Vikings and Rams before joining the Patriots.

When Daly is not coaching, he enjoys spending time with his wife, Keely, son, Liam and daughters, Ciara and Avelin.

"My family and I really enjoy living here," Daly said. "The community has a small town atmosphere to it, yet it's close to major cities like Boston and Providence. My kids are very active in youth sports and activities, so being able to be involved in the youth sports programs has been a lot of fun for me and I've met a lot of great people around town."

Daly also enjoys the F. Gilbert Hills State Forest and the Boyden Library. "I love hiking and walking through the state forest and taking my kids to check out books at the Boyden Library," Daly said. "We've enjoyed this town quite a bit."

Foxborough Girls Basketball Team Soaks Up 'Championship Atmosphere' at Gillette Stadium

Two days prior to winning the 2017 MIAA Division 2 South Sectional championship, the Foxborough High School varsity girls basketball team visited Gillette Stadium as guests of the Kraft family.

The Lady Warriors spent some time on the game field, where they were surprised with a good luck message from the Kraft family displayed on the stadium's video boards.

"Being on the field and seeing the good luck message from the Kraft family was incredible," said head coach Lisa Downs. "It's pretty incredible to have their support and to be here where the Patriots practice and play is a really cool experience and really special for these girls."

After photos on the field, the team headed inside to the Optum Field Lounge to break down film of their next opponent. The girls enjoyed light snacks while they watched Westwood's 36-32 win over Nauset in the Sectional Quarterfinals displayed on the lounge's 9-foot-by-32-foot media wall.

"We're usually watching film in a classroom, so this is much better," said Downs. "This is a nice way for the girls to enjoy the moment and do something special. We are thankful for the opportunity."

Downs added she was excited to have her team visit Gillette Stadium because of its "championship atmosphere."

"It's a winning environment and I always tell the girls that winning is contagious," Downs said. "I'm hoping our girls can grab a little bit of that championship atmosphere and take it with them."

And they did.

Trey Flowers, Globetrotters work on trick shots at YMCA

Prior to their March 5 game at Boston's TD Garden, two members of the Harlem Globetrotters basketball team took a trip to Foxborough to recruit a new member - Patriots defensive lineman Trey Flowers.

The Super Bowl LI champion stopped by the Inven-sys Foxboro Branch of the Hockmooch Area YMCA to get ready for his Globetrotters' debut on the parquet court of TD Garden. He practiced trick shots, ball handling and comedy routines with Globetrotters "Buckets" and "El Gato."

The trio entertained a gathering of Y members in the gymnasium as they took underhand shots from half court, caught basketballs on the back of their necks and spun a football on top of a basketball.

Flowers even managed to nail El Gato's specialty shot: a backwards, one-handed, over-the-head shot from half court.

PIP Fund helps H.U.G.S. Expand Outreach in Schools

The Partners in Patriotism Fund donated $3,859 to help H.U.G.S. Foxboro expand its community outreach and awareness efforts in the Foxborough Public Schools with a focus on domestic violence prevention.

H.U.G.S. will use the funds to host domestic violence prevention educational programs in the schools. These interactive, performance-based presentations cover current issues of bullying, cyber bullying, respect, harassment, dating violence, sexual coercion and healthy versus non-healthy relationships.

"We have found that these programs have had the most profound impact on the students and reinforced awareness about respecting all people through role-plays and discussions," said H.U.G.S. President Maura Schaeffer.

H.U.G.S. Foxboro is an all-volunteer, non-emergency, non-profit organization committed to making Foxboro safer by educating the public regarding violence in relationships and by providing assistance to victims and families affected by domestic violence.

PIP Fund partners with Friends of Foxboro Conservation to beautify Common

A grant of nearly $5,000 from the Partners in Patriotism Fund helped the Friends of Foxboro Conservation reach its fundraising goal to beautify the Common by upgrading the town's Flower Bucket program this spring.

"We are so thankful for the generosity of the Partners in Patriotism Fund," said Friends of Foxboro Conservation Trustee Heather Harding. "This grant will help us beautify the common in the spring with fabulous new planters and plants for everyone visiting or passing by the Common."

The funds will be used to replace 13 whiskey barrels that are located throughout the common with new, self-watering planters to match the planters that surround the new flagpole. The new planters will be placed around the exterior of the common fence to be more visible to passersby.

Harding added that 10 new planters will also be purchased through the Friends of Conservation's fundraising efforts, which will increase the Flower Bucket program from 13 to 23 planters.

This project, according to Harding, was inspired by the town's ongoing efforts to revitalize the downtown area surrounding the Common.
